

HELP WITH ACADEMIC WRITING

WRITERS IN RESIDENCE rlfwriterinresidence@worc.ac.uk
c.sanderson@worc.ac.uk or d.forbes@worc.ac.uk

Our brief is to advise on a confidential, one-to-one basis and we can comment on work or work in progress in a tutorial. The advice can cover such areas as expression, style, accuracy, planning, structure and relevance.

An appointment can be booked by email and will generally last for about 45 minutes, depending on what is needed. We are currently offering appointments on the hour each day, usually from 9 am to 5 pm and the tutorials will be in Bredon 034. If possible, please send or bring (on a memory stick or on paper) a brief sample of work in progress so that we have some material to consider. Duncan is covering Mondays and Tuesdays and Caroline is covering Thursdays and Fridays.

The service is free and is sponsored by the Royal Literary Fund which provides over eighty such fellows in universities and institutes of higher education throughout the UK. We regret that we cannot advise by email.
