

Train to teach at the University of Worcester

The University of Worcester is a community where students love to live and learn. Whatever walk of life you come from, Worcester provides an active, friendly, and supportive environment in which to grow and learn. We are a campus University based in the charming city of Worcester - where lively city culture and idyllic rural beauty combine to offer the best of both worlds.

Choose your route

At the University of Worcester we offer a three year undergraduate Primary Initial Teacher Education BA, as well as one-year postgraduate routes into primary and secondary teaching.

We also offer a two year part-time, in-service Diploma in Education course for the further education and skills sector.

Initially founded as an emergency teacher training college in 1946, the University of Worcester is known for offering the highest quality provision, partnership working and delivery in teacher training.

We provide our trainees with a thought-provoking, constructive and positive environment in which to train to become a teacher who is able to inspire their pupils.

Come along to an Open Day

An absolute pleasure and could not have spent a better 3 years of my life. It was a joy to be here and I only have fond memories of the University of Worcester. I'm sad to leave.
