

Alumni Reunion

The University of Worcester and Alumni Association Annual Reunion

Saturday 12 July 2014

Over 100 University of Worcester graduates and their guests were back on campus last weekend for the 2014 Alumni Reunion.

Graduates from as far back as the 1950s mixed with some of the University's most recent alumni at the annual event, which gives former students and their families the chance to socialise and take a look around the St John's campus as it is today.

Attendees also took the opportunity to visit the University's new buildings and facilities, many of which now make up an important part of the landscape of Worcester City.

After graduating, Worcester students automatically become members of the University's worldwide network of alumni, and can keep in touch with former classmates and current developments within the University community.
